MAYSVILLE, THE GATEWAY TO THE BLUEGRASS SECTION

Lexington Newspaper Again Points
Out Advantage of River Freight Handling By Way of Maysville.

The Lexington Herald on Sunday
said editorially:

A brief dispatch in Saturday's papers records the fact that ten boats were lined up at the Louisville river front on Friday, six of them in the freight business and four carrying passengers and freight. The congested condition of railroad traffic has greatly augmented river traffic. We are reminded that in our rivers we have possible means for freight movement which we have not yet utilized. We may expect a constant increase in the volume of traffic. We cannot expect any considerable increase in railroad mileage. We must have a big increase in the railroad equipment to meet the traffic demands. We shall probably find economy in the greater use of the rivers. It will probably be less expensive to improve the rivers and build boats than to build more railroads.

Central Kentucky is interested in the river traffic. We are in comparatively easy reach of the Ohio, while the Kentucky offers considerable transportation possibilities. The rivers and hard-surfaced roads with motor trucks will in the future more and more supplement the railway transportation system.

The Herald has repeatedly pointed out the possibilities to all Blue Grass Region of a combined river traffic and motor truck service. It is possible to have between Lexington and Maysville a hard-surfaced road that would accommodate heavy motor trucks with reasonable speed and economy, and it is possible, too, for a large proportion of the traffic coming to Lexington from eastern points, with the improvement of the river and an adequate supply of boats, to come down the river from Pittsburgh to Maysville and by rail or motor truck to other Central Kentucky points.

This is one way by which railway traffic congestion may be considerably relieved. At the present time, shipments originating beyond the Allegheny Mountains reach Central Kentucky through the Cincinnati gateway, which is always congested. Much of this traffic must also come through the Detroit gateway. It is notorious among railroad men and shippers that the region from Detroit to Cincinnati is usually the most congested in the United States. The traffic for the South that does not come through Detroit or Cincinnati must usually pass through the Potomac yards, another point of congestion.

Pittsburgh has direct railroad connection with Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, three important sources of shipment, and with the concentration of much traffic from these points by rail to Pittsburgh, with shipment down the river to Maysville, we would have a direct and economical route. We would return to what the pioneers found to be the way of least resistance when they came in flat boats down the Ohio. In the early period of Central Kentucky, the river even with the crude facilities for river shipment of that time, was the important means of transportation. The first printing press set up in Lexington was brought to Maysville by that route and transported the remainder of the distance by pack mule. The success of the Virginia Expedition, which won for the United States what was known as the Northwest Territory, was made possible by the fact that powder and other ammunition were brought down the Ohio. Perhaps, even with our tremendous advantage over the conditions of that time, we may learn something from the way in which the pioneers routed their traffic to what was then the western country.

Mr. Thomas Holton, of Chicago, is visiting his father, Mr. W. L. Holton, of the county, and other relatives.

MRS. ELIZABETH STEARS DIED SUNDAY EVENING

Well Known Mason County Woman Died Last Night at Home of son at Lewisburg.

Friends and relatives in this city received this morning the sad news of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Stears. For some time Mrs. Stears has made her home with her son and his family near Lewisburg and until recently was in good health. A few days ago she was stricken with paralysis and last night her spirit took flight.

Mrs. Stears belonged to a prominent Mason county family and in early youth united with the Methodist church, and her daily life was that of a consistent christian. Truly it can be said "none knew her but to love her," and if each person to whom she had shown a kindness should place a blossom on her grave she would rest beneath a wealth of flowers.

Mrs. Stears was born in 1834 and is survived by an only son, Mr. John Stears and his family and many friends, all of whom will reverence her memory and call her blessed.

The carriages will leave the residence at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Shannon church where funeral services will be held. Burial will be at Shannon.

EXPERT MURDERED IN DEFENSE OF GIRL BY A NEGRO

Mob of Infuriated Men Driven From Jail By Cavalry When They Attempt To Take Negro.

Alexandria, Va., May 24. — A mob of more than 1,000 young men which formed in the streets here this morning and marched upon the Arlington county jail, bent on lynching W. H. Turner, a negro, following his alleged confession that he shot and killed T. M. Moore, Government torpedo expert, and attacked Miss Pearl Clark, Moore's fiancée, was scattered by a detachment of cavalry from Ft. Myer. Infantrymen with bayonets fixed now are guarding the prisoner.

Sheriff A. C. Clements is confident of his ability to hold the prisoner in case of further lynching attempt. "I have that negro in a burglar proof cell," said the Sheriff. "I could give you my whole bunch of keys and you could not get him out. He'll stay where he is until his trial."

Sergeant C. C. Boyer, in charge of the military guard stationed around the jail, declared: "My men have ball ammunition, and they will shoot to kill if necessary."

When arrested Turner was near the scene of the crime. As the lights of the sheriff's automobile flashed upon him, crouching at the side of the road, he drew a pistol, but was quickly covered and disarmed. He was suffering from a wound in the right hand and another in the leg, the result of a pistol duel with Moore before Moore was killed.

Turner confessed, the police say, that he lay in wait near Moore's automobile until the young man and Miss Clark, who is Congressman Britten's secretary, returning from an entertainment entered the car and started home. The negro demanded that Moore give him a dollar, which was refused. The girl jumped out and ran behind the car. He caught her, whereupon Moore came rushing up, and a pistol battle followed, in which Moore was

FIRST BAND CONCERT SHOWS BOYS IMPROVED

Washington Theater Is Crowded Sunday Afternoon to Hear Maysville Boys' Band.

The first municipal concert of the year by the Maysville Boys' Band at the Washington Theater Sunday afternoon was a delightful musical treat enjoyed by just as many as could get into the large auditorium.

The program contained a number of "heavy" pieces which the boys executed with marked ability and the program demonstrated wonderful development during the winter months under the efficient and result bearing instruction of Director J. W. Young. The rendition of selections from opera plainly showed that the band members had been putting in some hard work during the winter period and greatly pleased the large audience.

A solo part in Sousa's "El Capitan" taken by J. Barbour Russell, Jr., gave the audience some idea of Professor Young's ability to impart musical knowledge to the young. Young Barbour a year ago knew nothing of music. A cornet obligato by Clifton Simpson in Barnhouse's schottish "Dainty Dear," also displayed individual growth in music. Simpson, Spencer, Triebel and Key were featured in a military march as were also Simpson, Wood and Russell on cornets in another Sousa selection.

Professor W. J. Caplinger, representing the managing committee, in a short address between parts thanked the generous public for their hearty support of the band.

FIGHT AT CARNIVAL.

Ed Archibald entered a plea, of guilty in Police Court this morning to a charge of breach of the peace and paid a fine of $5 and costs. Archibald and Thomas Dunn engaged in a fight at the carnival grounds Saturday night.

The young woman's jewelry, three diamond rings and a watch were found in the road not far from the scene of the struggle.

SPEAKER HARD TO GET BUT PLANS GOON FOR CELEBRATION

American Legion Thus Far Unable To Get Speaker for Memorial Day But Plans Are Going Forward
For Big Celebration.

The American Legion committee in charge of arrangements for the proper celebration of Memorial Day on next Sunday was again much disappointed this morning when Hon. Thomas D. Slattery, United States District Attorney, informed them that he would be unable to be in Maysville on Sunday afternoon to deliver for them the annual eulogy. Although disappointed, they have not given up the proposed celebration and they are making efforts in other directions to locate an orator for the day.

Other plans are also going forward. They are expecting to have a very fine musical program with vocal and instrumental music of a high class and the Boys' Band will also play a concert at the park during the afternoon. The members of the American Legion, Leslie H. Arthur Post, are all urged to make plans to spend Sunday afternoon in Maysville at this Memorial Day service in honor of their comrades who have crossed the river and veterans of the Spanish American and the Civil Wars will also join in doing honor to the dead of all wars.

Just as soon as the entire program is made up it will be announced through the press but everyone in Maysville can feel assured that there will be an interesting and proper celebration if it becomes necessary to put some of our local orators into service for the day.

ONCE THRIVING OHIO
SHAKER COLONY IS EMPTY

Marriage Forbidden and Few Converts Have Been Gained in Recent Years.

Union Village, Ohio. — Of the thousands of shaking Quakers who lived in Ohio a number of years ago, only six survive. They now are aged, and are living a life of quiet in one of the original barracks constructed more than a century ago in this Warren county village, settled by the Shakers in 1805. Thirty years ago, the Shakers had four flourishing settlements in Ohio and owned 7,500 acres of valuable farm land. As death overtook the old members, the societies were disbanded, and the land sold. The official name of the denomination, as organized nearly 200 years ago, was "The United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearing," but society soon derived the epithet "Shakers" because of peculiar jerking during religious ceremonies. Shaker theology commanded the breaking up of family life. This separation law has always been rigidly enforced. All property and all wealth is held in common, thus establishing a form of communism. No one received wages for his labors, all profits going into a common treasury. Supplies necessary to life are dealt out from a common storehouse. As the sect does not believe in marriage, there has been no new generation to continue its belief, save for a few new converts.

NATION TO BE GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN THE BOYS

Boy Scout Week Will Give the Whole Nation a Chance to Learn More About Its Boys.

As a part of the Tenth Birthday program of the Boy Scouts of America, the week commencing Memorial Day, May 30th, and ending Sunday, June 6th, will be observed nationally as Boy Scout Week. In 17,000 communities where Scout troops are established, a program of outdoor activities will be carried out.

The remarkable growth of the Boy Scouts of America has given a great stimulus to the outdoor activities of American boys. It is probable that throughout the past year more boys have spent days and nights in the open under leadership than ever before in the history of the United States since Pioneer days; and because Boy Scouts have taken this message of the outdoors into their homes, have conducted open-window campaigns and fresh-air crusades, it is likely that more groups have breathed pure air during the past year than has been the case since the time of our great-grandfathers.

Boys as Scouts have been taught to care for forests and to fight forest fires. They have gathered information for numerous departments of forestry, sometimes collecting data on the trees of an entire state. They have engaged in fights against insect pests and have made notes on different varieties of birds.

Thousands of American boys who a year or so ago were absolutely helpless in the open can now be depended upon to find their way about, to cook their own meals, to choose a proper camp site and to erect a comfortable shelter. Thousands of American boys who formerly knew little of nothing of nature can now recognize many different kinds of trees and give the names of dozens of wild flowers; can easily recognize the more common birds and know enough about mushrooms to avoid being poisoned.

The activities of Boy Scout Week will include special Scout services in churches of all denominations, outdoor rallies, overnight hikes, barbecues, field days, demonstration camps, and competitions in outdoor feature of all kinds.

On Sunday, May 30th, the opening day of Boy Scout Week, special services in which Scouts will participate are planned by churches of all denominations. Programs of Scouting activities will be held through the week, and Friday, June 4th, will be observed as Hike and Camp Day. A nation-wide Field Day program will be held on Saturday, June 5th, with competitions in tent pitching, fire building, wall scaling, signaling, tower and bridge building and demonstrations of first aid and life-saving.

The great success of the Boy Scout Movement has naturally created the demand for a much wider and more rapid extension of the benefits of the movement to the boys not already reached, and the objective of Boy Scout Week will be to stimulate this interest.

CHIEF GRUB SCOUT SAILS FOR FRANCE TO AID FARM WORK.

Hal Fullerton, "Chief Grub Scout" of the Boy Scouts of America, sailed for France aboard La Touraine. Mr. Fullerton, who is an agricultural expert, is to go to the war-torn region on the call of the American Committee for the Devastated Region of France, of which Miss Anne Morgan is the head.

"You of course know that there is little we can teach the French in the way of skilled agriculture," said Mr. Fullerton. "But conditions there now are in a way comparable to those overcome by the settlers of America. In a way, it is pioneering, and it is this American quality that possibly is needed."

As an aid to Herbert Hoover during war times, Hal Fullerton did effective work by greatly increasing food production in America. He will go direct to Laon, called the most desolate part of the battlefields, and start a demonstration farm there.

The Boy Scouts of France will be drafted to do all the labor under the American "Chief Grub Scout." There, as here during the war, they will work under his advice.

IN "CHURCH" WITHOUT ROOF SALVATIONISTS
PREACH TO MORE THAN 18,000,000 YEARLY

A few of the 18,000,000 persons who attend Salvation Army outdoor meetings each year. (Insert) A penitent at the "Mercy Seat."

More than eighteen million men and women make up the congregations that attend in a single year the street meetings of the Salvation Army in this country. Six millions of these, according to conservative estimate, would never hear the gospel preached but for the practice of the Salvationists of taking the church to the people.

That practice was not an easy one to start. Between the rough-house methods of rowdies who tried to break up even their indoor services in the early days and the unwillingness of the police at first to permit the holding of street meetings the Salvationists had a strenuous time of it.

But they persisted, and the Army with the bass drum and the tambourine has kept marching on. When its officers were not preaching they were establishing hospitals, nurseries, rescue homes and institutions of all kinds.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Covington, Kentucky, May 10th, 1920.
For some time past it has been known to many of my Republican friends throughout the state that I would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

I now desire to make public announcement of that fact.

I keenly appreciate the responsibility and importance of this high position, and, in the event of my election, I will give to the duties of this office the best there is in me and will represent the people of Kentucky and of the United States to the best of my ability.

I desire, also, to take advantage of this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the many Republicans throughout the state who have, without solicitation on my part, so kindly and generously offered me their support.

RICHARD P. ERNST.

TAX ON BIG ADVERTISERS.

Representative Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, has introduced a bill in the House of Representatives to fix second-class postage rates. The rates on portions of publications not devoted to advertising would be fixed at 1½ cents a pound. On portions of publications devoted to advertising the following rates within the several zones applicable to fourth-class matter would be fixed: first and second zones, 1½ cents; third zone, two cents; fourth zone, three cents; fifth zone 3½ cents; sixth zone, four cents; seventh zone, five cents and in the eighth zone, 5½ cents. The present rates on second class matter, irrespective of the amount of advertising published, range from 1½ cents a pound for the first zone to 5½ cents for the eighth, but under the present law the rates will automatically increase July 1 to ten cents a pound in the eighth zone with correspondingly higher rates in the other zones.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK IS OBSERVED IN THE BIG FORESTS

Government Supports Plan to Minimize Fires in National and Private Forests.

Washington, D. C. — Widespread support of the special drive now under way against man-caused fires in the Nation's public and private forests is indicated in reports received here by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, regarding the observance of Forest Protection and Fire Prevention Week which opened May 23 in many Western States. The campaign to reduce the damage by conflagrations, amounting annually to millions of dollars, has received the hearty endorsement of civic bodies, business organizations, churches, schools, and colleges. The response has been particularly enthusiastic in the nine states—California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota, Utah, Oregon, and Washington — whose governors officially designated the current seven days as "Fire-Prevention Week."

E. T. Meredith, Secretary of Agriculture, on receipt of reports showing the earnest support given this new crusade to eliminate carelessness in handling fire in the forests, has written each of the governors in the nine states a congratulatory letter, in the course of which he declares: "Our decreasing timber and paper supplies are beginning to make clear to all the need for concerted action. The states and the Nation must join hands in the effort to halt forest destruction. Not only as sources of permanent supplies of timber, but also as conservators of water supplies, our forests are essential to our industrial, economic, and social welfare."

Fire-prevention week originated with the National Park Association at Seattle, and has quickly spread from state to state, indicating that the public now recognizes the peril involved in continued carelessness in the forests. "The great out-of-door, our to enjoy, not to destroy," is the keynote of the many slogans which, according to reports, are being conspicuously displayed by participants in this popular movement.

In giving its support of Fire-Prevention Week, the Forest Service calls attention to the appalling losses which fires of various origins have caused in recent years. The average annual loss from forest fires during the last three-year period for which the Forest Service has statistics (that ending with 1918) was $20,727,000, for the United States. The average of the areas burned annually was 13,969,000 acres. The burning of brush in the process of clearing land for cultivation was responsible for a yearly average of 5,173 fires in the period. Railroads were also responsible for a large number of conflagrations.

Next to these two causes stands incendiaryism. According to the Forest Service 4,597 was the average number of forest fires of malicious origin in the three-year period. The average number of fires per year started by careless campers was almost as great as those caused by incendiaryism, 4,096. The number of such fires is particularly high in the West. Other principal causes are lightning and carelessness by men engaged in lumbering operations.

"IN THE DAYS' NEWS."

Though he has many rivals, Sir Arthur Pinero, who celebrates his sixty-fifth birthday today, holds sway as the most prolific and successful of English playwrights. Few dramatists have had so many successes since he took London by storm with "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" a quarter of a century ago. Since then many society dramas have come from his pen, and they have not only made him famous, but rich too. Sir Arthur's family is of Portuguese origin. Some thirty-five years ago he was a clerk in a London solicitor's office. Then the stage attracted him, and he trod the boards for the best part of ten years. Meanwhile he wrote some farces and comedies, becoming famous at last by the production of "The Squires" by Mr. and Mrs. Kendal. Among his most widely known productions are "Sweet Lavender," "The Notorious Mrs. Ebb-smith," "The Profligate" and "The Gay Lord Quex."

BARNEY OLDFIELD TO BE REPRESENTED IN 500-MILE AUTO RACING CLASSIC

An automobile race without Barney Oldfield, the veteran, would be like a balloon race without balloons, and although the racer "who never looked back" has retired from actual competition, he has this year, as last, entered a car in the 500-mile international sweepstakes to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 31. Barney spends considerable time at the track before each race grooming his car and pilot for the long grind and on the day of the race is always a familiar figure about the track and at the pits.

Last year Oldfield entered Roscoe Searles, who created a sensation on coast tracks early last season, but was forced out of the Indianapolis affair early in the race with a broken cam shaft. But he was among the leaders while he was on the track.

Oldfield has not yet named his pilot for this year's offering to the racing fans. However, the car he has entered is an "Oldfield Special, of 182 cubic inches piston displacement, manufactured by Harry Miller, of Los Angeles.

Barney Oldfield is a fixture in auto racing. He was the first man to drive an auto a mile in less than a minute on a circular track—that feat being accomplished in 1903 in Indianapolis (He never fails to smile when he relates that he was paid $100 for this feat).

REDMEN COMPLETING ANNIVERSARY PLANS

Hon. Beckham Overstreet and Other Notables to Address the Local Red Men at 25th Anniversary Celebration.

The committee in charge of the quarter-century celebration to be given by Wyandotte Tribe I. O. R. M. has plans well under way for that occasion. The celebration will take the form of a big banquet which will likely be served in the wigwam of the tribe. Invitations have been sent to every member of the tribe, urging them to attend. A cordial invitation is also extended to all neighboring tribes to attend. That the committee may know how many to expect, all who will come are asked to notify the chief of Records, Duke White, Maysville, Kentucky.

The first part of the celebration will be the exemplification of the work in all degrees to a large class on Tuesday evening, June first. On Thursday evening, June third, is the date of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the tribe and the banquet will be served that evening at 7:30. Past Sachem C. P. Rasp will preside as toastmaster at the banquet. "Long Talks" will be made by Hon. Beckham Overstreet, Great Junior Sagamore elect of the Great Council of Kentucky; Past Great Representative Thos. M. Russell and Chief Judge Newell of Wyandotte Tribe. There will be "short talks" by several visitors. This is expected to be one of the greatest events in the history of the Tribe, which is now one of the largest in the state. Mr. Overstreet who is to honor the Tribe with his presence is one of the leading fraternal men of the state, being prominently connected with the big movements in Oddfellowship and other orders. He is an eloquent speaker and is sure to give the local Red Men a real treat in the way of a speech.

These pretty Sundays are helping the Sunday schools wonderfully. This is especially noticeable with the county schools. The attendance all 'round is keeping up much better than a year ago.

The school of the Third Street M. E. church will begin rehearsing their Children's Day service on Tuesday evening at 6:30. The service will be given entirely by the children's department under the direction of the superintendent, Miss Hurd, and her excellent corps of teachers. "God's Flowerland" is the title of the service to be given. It is one of the prettiest services out this year. The music is by Ira Wilson. The service brings in a large number of children and admits of much beautiful costuming. The service will be given on the second or third Sunday evening in June.

As a result of the special efforts put forth by the pastor and members of the Third Street M. E. church, thirty united with the church at the morning service and one at the evening service. It was a service that brought great joy to the heart of the pastor and his faithful workers. Many of those uniting were from the Sunday school. Several came in by letter transfer. In all it was a beautiful sight to see such a large class consecrating their lives to Christ and the church.

A LETTER TO MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

Did your heart ever send out an S. O. S. call?
Did you ever receive an S. O. S. heart call to C. Q. D.?
Here was a sweet young girl, ignorant of life and learning, who was transplanted into a home of wealth, display and social life. Here her husband taught her "The A. B. C. of Love."

Could she, an unknown girl, adopt herself to these things?
The time came when, in a crisis, he was put to the test, and then this girl, played with such verve and sparkle by Mae Murray, the Maid of Many Moods, sent out her heart call in "The A. B. C. of Love." You'll answer it when you see this photo-drama.

Dainty as lingerie, spicy with action, this dramatic romance is splendid entertainment for the family.
Don't miss this! It's full of delicious bits of humor, and charming Mae Murray displays some of the most daring, striking and stunning gowns of Gay Paree.

A picture for the hearts, both young and old—men and women. Come, any performance at the Pastime Wednesday. Very truly yours,
CHAS. TRIEBEL, Manager.
